KORTNEY WILSON

Television Personality | Entrepreneur

Kortney Wilson is a multi-talented entrepreneur, TV personality, Realtor, designer, podcaster, and mom. Her newest television show, Home Network's Life is Messy, follows Kortney and co-host Kenny Brain as they help families take back control from clutter and disorganization, one transformation at a time. With Kortney's designer's eye and personal style, she brings joy and excitement to every project she's involved with.

Kortney first rose to prominence as the co-host and lead designer of HGTV's hit series Masters of Flip, which aired for four successful seasons. In 2020, she also starred in HGTV's Making It Home. Beyond her acclaimed home and design television projects, Kortney has also been featured on The Good Stuff with Mary Berg, The Shopping Channel, and in People magazine, among many others.

With a passion for home design, Kortney has built a reputation for creating beautiful, livable spaces that reflect real life. She is the founder of kort & co., a stylish and affordable furniture and home goods line available across Canada. She is also an award-winning Realtor helping clients bring their dream homes to life.

A devoted mom of three, Kortney remains deeply connected to both her local and global communities. She travels to Ethiopia, using her platform to raise funds for those in need, demonstrating her commitment to making an impact beyond the screen.

Kortney is a proud Canadian living in Nashville, Tennessee.
